For an opportunity to network with other business and professional women from the region, put this date in your diary now.

To confirm numbers for the venue, please RSVP by email on by COB 25th March to: mcousins@vecci.org.au.

If you would like to volunteer to speak at a future meeting, or to provide a business card draw prize, please contact Margi on the email address above. This is, after all, a networking group.

We do not intend to replace or duplicate existing groups or events already in the community – rather to promote and raise the profile of professional women in business in the region and to provide an opportunity to share and mentor with each other in a semi-formal environment. There are no membership fees.
